THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

THE GREAT INVENTION OF THE AGE—Steam Supplanted Gas Triumphant!

THE first half of the nineteenth century will be recorded as the age of Steam. It has passed, and with it will pass the steam engine with the thing that were.

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

Pursuant to the notice given, the Central Committee met at the rooms of the National Institute, in the Patent Office, on Thursday evening, the 13th instant, at 8 o'clock.

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

The meeting was called to order by Professor Walter R. Johnson, on whose motion Col. Peter Force was called to the Chair, and Charles F. Stansbury chosen Secretary of the meeting.

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

This temporary organization having been effected, the committee decided to organize permanently by the appointment of the Hon. Millard Fillmore, Vice President of the United States, Chairman, and Prof. Walter R. Johnson Secretary.

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

At the request of the Chairman, (Col. Force), the following papers were read by Prof. Johnson, in explanation of the appointment and duties of the committee:

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

STATE DEPARTMENT.
WASHINGTON, May 17, 1850.

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

for the Promotion of Science.

Sir: I have the honor herewith to transmit copies of a circular, which has been taken place by the Secretary of the Royal Commission, in relation to the proposed Industrial Exhibition to be held in London, in the year 1851.

From the circular of the Royal Commissioners of Great Britain, hereto annexed, it will be observed that all persons desiring to be introduced to the exhibition are required to have been first submitted to and approved by a central authority or committee of the country from which they have been introduced, and that no person shall be admitted to the exhibition unless he has been recommended by the Government of the country in which he exists.

The American industry and arts may be enabled to appear in the place allotted to them, it will be indispensable that a recognized central authority should be constituted; and I am under the impression that the National Institute, having been constituted by act of Congress, and being habitually engaged in matters pertaining to the arts and sciences, is the proper body for taking the initiative in constituting such a central authority.

I therefore beg leave to submit to its consideration the interesting and important subject which has been brought to the attention of this Department by the circular of the Royal Commissioners, and to request such action or suggestions as may seem necessary in order that the natural productions, the industry, and arts of the United States may be represented in the most favorable manner possible.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, yours,
JOHN M. CLAYTON,
Secretary of the National Institute.

THE GRAND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF 1851.

This committee, to which was referred the communication from the Hon. John M. Clayton, Secretary of State, relative to the formation of a central authority for transmitting articles to the Industrial Exhibition to be held in London in 1851, offers the following report:

The committee, impressed with the importance of the subject commended to the Institute, have given to it the most careful and anxious consideration. The resources, the industry, and arts of the United States are conceived to merit the best advantages to procure for them the opportunity of being adequately represented in the great exhibition of the world.

Accordingly to the programme adopted by the Royal Commission, no articles are to be received from Foreign Exhibitors except those which shall have been approved by a central authority, recognized by the Government of the country from which they are sent.

This Institute being the only Society for the Promotion of the Arts and Sciences incorporated by the Government, the Secretary of State has deemed it the appropriate body to take action in making suggestions relative to the fulfillment of the wishes of the Royal Commission, by the establishment of such a central authority as the Government seems to require.

To this voluntary proposal on the part of the Secretary of State, the committee considered the National Institute is fully bound to respond.

In accordance with the action of the committee respectfully recommended the following resolution:

1. Resolved, That the Institute will take action on the subject submitted to it by the Department of State.

2. Resolved, That the Institute do now proceed to constitute a committee suitable to be recognized by the Government as a central body to hold correspondence with the Royal Commission, and to secure the reception of American productions at the proposed Industrial Exhibition in London.

THE SOUTHERN PRESS.

There will be a daily, tri-weekly, and a weekly issue—the latter to contain substantially, the same matter as the former, and intended to reach those points of the views whose mail facilities are limited.

The paper will not be exclusively political—but will embrace on its broad sheet the General News of the day, Domestic and Foreign, by mail and telegraph, and all the news of the day, without exception. Literary Criticisms, Original Essays, Literary and Miscellaneous, in short, all those items of general interest, the collected aggregate of which constitutes the interesting and valuable Newspaper.

Great care will be taken to give full and correct Reports of the Proceedings and Debates in both Houses of Congress, as well as the action of the local Legislatures on all important questions.

A limited number only of Advertisements will be received—the main object being to furnish a large amount of reading matter.

The paper will be printed on a sheet equal in size to those of the other Washington papers, and the material will be procured especially for the purpose.

It is confidently hoped that every true friend to the Southern Cause, and every true friend to the Southern Representative at Washington, forthwith, Postmasters are authorized by law to remit subscriptions free of postage.

TERMS.

For Daily—the price will be per annum, - $10.00
For Tri-weekly during the Session of Congress, and Semi-weekly during the recess, - 5.00
Weekly during the recess, - 2.00

The price of subscription must be paid invariably in advance, and the cash accompanying the name sent.
